Airy Mystique:

Barbara Krueger:

Barbara Krueger has been inspired to be an artist her entire life. As a young child she studied paintings at the Nelson Atkins Museum later obtaining a BA in fine art from UMKC.

Mediums and subjects include Southwest landscape and floral acrylic paintings; ink illustrations; Prismacolor pencil drawings (children's book illustrations and caricature drawings); acrylic—Indian drum designs, wooden Southwestern painted furniture.

Detailed, realistic, Prismacolor pencil drawings or acrylic paintings of the Southwest are of monolithic rock formations, quaint adobe dwellings, and close-up florals displaying a sometimes surreal or expressionistic touch. Recent inspiration is currently found in creating pastels of sunsets, Southwest landscapes, interesting cloud formations and florals. Barbara works from life, imagination, and personal travel photo reference.

Highlights of solo art exhibitions: San Geronimo Lodge, Harwood Museum and Library, Taos, Las Vegas, New Mexico Women's Art Festival, Pedrini Gallery, Balogna and Taos Firehouse Collection. Her work has been shown in various galleries or art shows in Taos, Kansas City, Phoenix, San Francisco, Boulder, Overland Park, Truchas and Bologna, Italy since 1984.

Barbara has also drawn caricatures as gifts or for special event entertainment for 23 years. Subjects taught include graphite or colored pencil, acrylic painting and caricature drawing.

Laura Orr:

Laura Orr is an emerging artist new to Kansas City. She recently came from Hartford, Connecticut but is no stranger to moving and starting fresh. Throughout her childhood, she moved constantly rarely staying in one place for more than 2 years. What was created was a strong visual grasp on surroundings and anticipation to take flight. A theme of birds, wings, and elusive nature are felt in her collection. Fine details prove powerful with closer inspection while a natural palette carries an immersive sense of familiarity. Many of the paintings shown today are named by places influencing the piece; regardless of where it was painted.

Since moving to Kansas City, her work has gained traction from commission mural work to local gallery shows. Her newest focus has been expanding this collection to include larger, bolder pieces yet constantly cultivating that realism seed. Her mediums of choice vary between gouache, watercolor, and acrylic, calculated by what would bring the best subject capture. Nesting currently in the River Market, this new Artist is proud to expand and show and continually amaze the Kansas City Metro.
