Photography: Scene and Unseen:

Anne Nye:

Anne Nye has been taking photographs for many years. After earning an undergraduate degree in biology, Anne married and had four daughters. When the girls were young, she took college courses in fine arts in a variety of media. She also studied with Monte Nagler who studied with Ansel Adams.

Her work has been shown in juried exhibitions in the Kansas City area. Some of the juried shows include the Five State Photography Show in Hays, Cultures without Borders, a photography show in Madison, Wisconsin, Arti Gras in Leawood, State of the Arts, Prairie Village, and Art at the Center, Overland Park, Kansas. She has had individual shows at the Lenexa City Art Gallery, the Steeple of Light Gallery at the Community Christian Church, the Endres Gallery in Prairie Village, and libraries in Johnson County and Salina, Kansas.

Anne's ability to see what is extraordinary in the ordinary is what she enjoys most about photographing. She is drawn to the magic of reflections and the effect produced by light.

Jack Stemm:

His father was a photographer and taught him to shoot with an Argus C3 "Brick" during his formative years in the 1950s. His father's love of nature has always been a strong influence. His work and his father's have hung side by side in juried shows.

He believes in F8 and being there for as long as it takes.
He believes in capturing what something can be not what it is.
He believes in the golden moments of each day.

When people see his work, he would like them to see an image from a different vantage point, intrigued by the dynamics of light and to be curious and motivated to delve closer.

His work is affected by a favorite quote from Cecil Beaton:

"Be daring, be different, be impractical, be anything that will assert integrity of purpose and imaginative vision against the play-it-safers, the creatures of the commonplace, the slaves of the ordinary."

Jeff Tamblyn:

In a life that's included experimental live theater, stand-up comedy, writing and directing offbeat corporate video and film, and distributing art house movies, Tamblyn now practices photography in the same way he's done everything else — using relentless experimentation to push artistic boundaries. Exhibiting on a nearly continuous basis since 2019, his work has been shown at over 15 local and regional venues. He's currently represented by Cerbera Gallery, in the Crossroads Arts District, Kansas City, Missouri.
