Aaron Dougherty:

Aaron Dougherty studied architecture at the University of Kansas, completing a Bachelor’s degree in Environmental Design, 1981 and a Bachelor’s in Architecture, 1982. He studied sculpture for a semester at Kansas City Art Institute in 1987, and in 1995 completed certification in secondary education at Avila College, Kansas City.

He is a registered architect, in active practice from 1983 to 2009, and taught high school chemistry in 1996/97 at Shawnee Mission West High School in Kansas. In 2009 he began Aaron Dougherty Photography, freelancing primarily in architectural and interiors photography.

His work has been exhibited at venues in and around Kansas City, and has been published in periodicals including Fraction Magazine, El Croquis, Architect, Architectural Record, Architecture- Boston and Photo Review.

His photography was shown in 2023 at the A’23 AIA National Conference; San Francisco—and in 2016 at the GAA Foundation’s Time-Space-Existence exhibit at the Biennale di Venezia, Italy.

Dougherty currently lives and works in Kansas City, MO.

Nate Evans:

Samantha Sander:

Samantha Sander is a multidisciplinary creative whose work bridges design, photography, and storytelling. With over a decade of experience in the creative industry, she brings both technical mastery and heartfelt vision to every project she pursues.

Holding degrees in Graphic Design and Marketing, Sander is fluent in Adobe’s creative suite and skilled across photography, video, and digital media. Her career began in visual design, but her artistic journey evolved into photography—a pursuit that allows her to connect with the world through emotion, light, and atmosphere.

Her featured collection, photographed throughout Croatia and Italy, captures the enduring character of architecture shaped by time. Presented entirely in black and white, the series highlights the interplay of shadow, texture, and form—where stone, structure, and the quiet persistence of nature converge. Through minimalism and contrast, Sander reveals the poetry in decay and the elegance in simplicity, inviting viewers to reflect on the stories buildings hold long after their voices fade.

Guided by a belief that creativity is both skill and soul, her work celebrates the harmony between structure and spontaneity. Each photograph is a reflection of her desire to capture not just how a place looks, but how it feels.
